

ENVISIONING AN ELECTRIFYING FUTURE
11th Budapest Visual Learning Conference

This network (compare also the VLC10 website) aims to serve pre-conference discussions. As we have realized in the course of the past few years, online conferences only work if they in the main happen before they actually happen. We rely on your cooperation, understanding, and on your enthusiasm.

Tversky

Nyíri

Mendonça

Laki

Aczél

Smith

Hug

Dergez-Rippl

Wade

Sorgner

Wen

Gal

Kozak

Benedek

AI future

retro-futuristic visions

media education

imagery

AI

the language of gestures

the future mind

AI skills

AI knowledge

AI literacy

Maschinenmenschen

imagery

primordial images

spoken sounds

are there mental images?

mental space vs. physical space

conceptual metaphor theory multimedia learning in the AI age visual turn: the implications

multimedia education

our coming A(I)ges

what is intelligence?

cyborgs

teacher robots

Nietzsche in the 21st century

Jung

Jung

AI: promise or peril? augmented intelligence / transhumanism writing, thinking, philosophy

printed books

